

BUYS WEDDING RING, GIRL JILTS HIM; HE'S JAILED

Defense of Cook in U. S. Court

ORDERED RING BY MAIL

And is Charged With Using Mails to Defraud; Case Goes to Jury

William H. Cook's plunge at matrimony placed him in the clutches of the officials of the United States and placed a charge of using the mails to defraud against him. Cook explained his unhappy predicament in United States court where he is on trial this morning.

Between the time of his engagement to a young woman of Rochester, Minn., the ordering of a diamond ring, the proposed wedding was broken off indefinitely and the ring returned. Cook gave this as his explanation for ordering three diamond rings and not accepting any of them.

Rings for a gentleman were ordered, but the defendant had a good solution of this perplexing question.

"I intended to wear the ring myself for four or five months and have it reset before I gave it to my girl," said Cook. "I didn't want any loose diamonds around the farm because they might get lost."

"I hadn't planned on going back to Rochester from my home at Fall River, Wis. for four or five months and thought I might just as well wear the ring for a time. When I reached Rochester, I planned to have it reset, present it to the young lady and announce the engagement and marriage. I have kept this a secret until now."

The government attempted to establish a chain of evidence about Cook showing that he was in the habit of ordering goods from mail order houses by C. O. D., refusing some and accepting others and later selling or attempting to sell the article for a low price. This is the allegation of the government.

Cook is on trial for using the mails to defraud. The government charges that he ordered a sterling silver flute from Lyon & Healy, Chicago, secured it from the express office and later attempted to dispose of it for $5 or $10 in Milwaukee. The charge is denied by the young man.

Cook was on the stand in his own defense this morning, identifying letters and reciting his connection with the alleged attempt to defraud. The case went to the jury this afternoon.

FAIR MADE LESS MONEY THAN AT '05 EXPOSITION

Gate Receipts are Nearly a Thousand Dollars Short This Year

"Gate receipts of the Interstate fair for 1906 will not equal the money taken in at the gate in 1905," said E. M. Wing, treasurer of the association this morning. "To be true, the gross receipts, including exhibition and privilege receipts will equal the 1905 account, but not from the gate."

"The report that the gate receipts were in excess of the amount received last year is entirely erroneous. The receipts at the entrances will fall short about $800, to be made up by money received from other sources."

"Thursday was not a record breaker, but about equal to last year while Wednesday in 1905 completely outstripped the same day of this year. The difference in Wednesdays is made up in privilege and exhibition money."

"I am unable to give out the total amount of receipts. The jobbers' tickets have not been counted and there remain other moneys to be collected. The report will be ready for the annual meeting of the association."

ESCH GOES INTO IA. TO CAMPAIGN

Representative John J. Esch will open the campaign in the Seventh congressional district with an address at Durand, Wis., Wednesday, Oct. 10. Mr. Esch announced the opening of the campaign with the itinerary for the first two weeks today.

The national republican committee has called upon the La Crosse congressman for his services for one week in the Second congressional district in Iowa where Mr. Esch will speak during the week of Oct. 14 to 20.

The district embraces the towns of Davenport, Clinton and Muscatine. At present a republican is congressman from the district, but the fight is close. Two years ago a democrat was in office, but was defeated by about one hundred votes at the election in November, 1904.

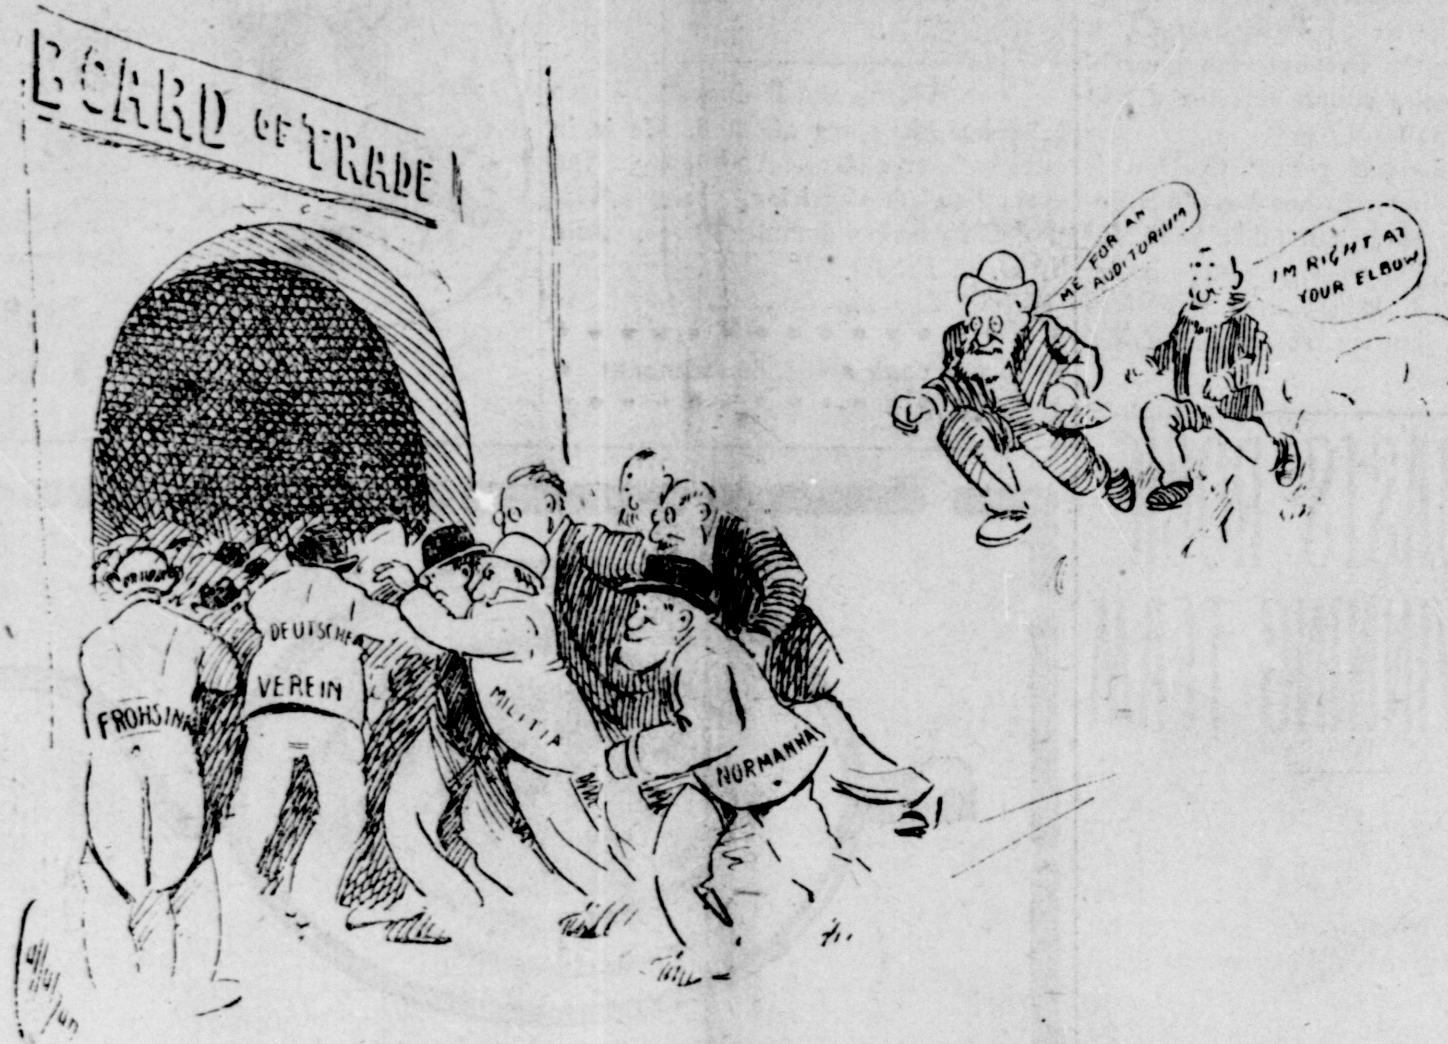

The itinerary for this district follows:

- Oct. 10—Durand.
- Oct. 11—Nelson.
- Oct. 12—Fountain City.

Congressman Esch will speak in La Crosse later. No arrangements have been made for addresses as yet, however. Other speakers of note also will come to the city if present plans are fulfilled.

OPEN NEW LINE

Cars to Run to Catholic Cemetery Next Sunday

Connections with the new Catholic cemetery branch of the La Crosse City Railway company are being made at Sixteenth and Market streets today. The first cars probably will be run over the new line on Sunday although trial trips may be made Friday, when it is expected to have the line fully completed.

The new line of the company, the first constructed under the terms of the new ordinance granted last spring, runs from Sixteenth and Market streets to the Catholic cemetery, Losey boulevard and Market street. The branch is about three-quarters of a mile in length.

For the last month the company has had a crew of men at work rushing the line to completion that it might be finished by the first of October.

Changes in the running of cars on the Market street and Sixteenth and Farnam lines may be made when the Catholic cemetery line is put into operation.

At the offices of the company it was announced today that the first car would be run over the branch on Sunday.

ASKS $20,000 FOR INJURIES

Sophia Champaign Case is up in Circuit Court Again Today

Trial of the suit of Enslie Champaign of the North side, against the La Crosse City Railway company for $20,000 damages for injuries received by his wife on the lines of the defendant company was begun in United States court before Judge Sanborn this afternoon.

The plaintiff alleges that he has been deprived of the services of his wife through injuries received from the La Crosse City Railway company five years ago. The claim is made by Champaign that his wife was getting off a street car when it started with a sudden jerk, throwing her to the ground and inflicting the injuries. The street railway company in turn claims that Mrs. Champaign was alighting in the middle of the block where she had no business to be.

Mrs. Champaign has been unable to walk without crutches for the last five years. She received injuries to her side and also internal injuries in the accident.

Judge Ray S. Reid and Attorney W. H. McDonald, St. Paul, are prosecuting the suit while Woodward & Lees are defending.

S.S.S. EXPELS BLOOD HUMORS

Itching, disfiguring eruptions, rashes, boils, etc., as well as pimples, black-heads and rough, scaly skins, show the presence of some irritating humor in the blood. These acids and humors with which the blood is filled are being constantly thrown off through the pores and glands, and the skin is kept in a feverish, diseased and unsightly condition. Nothing applied externally can change the condition of the blood or prevent the outflow of poisons and acids; only constitutional treatment can do this. The countless washes, salves, lotions, etc., that are used cannot reach the humor-laden blood and are, therefore, useless, except for the temporary comfort and cleanliness they afford. The acid poison in the blood, which is the cause of the trouble, must be removed before a cure can be effected. S. S. S. is a real blood purifier, possessing all the requirements to neutralize and remove the humor from the circulation. It completely eradicates every trace of the poison and restores this vital fluid to its natural state of purity. S. S. S. cools the acid-heated blood so that instead of pouring out acid matter on the skin it feeds and nourishes it with health-sustaining properties, and the eruptions and diseases of the skin pass away. LAD CASTS ROCK AT WINNING TEAM

FOND DU LAC, Wis., Oct. 2.—Mayor Doyle arrested a young lady here Sunday for throwing a stone through the window of a street car in which a team of Milwaukee baseball players were riding.

The boy, named Higgins, who is 14 years old, became infuriated at the defeat of the local team by the Mishicotts, and when the players were leaving the grounds he followed, throwing mud at them and jeering. When no attention was paid him he lost control of his temper and threw a stone. It crashed through the glass and passed an inch from the head of Mayor Doyle's little 3-year-old daughter, who was with her father on the car. A player on the other side of the car was struck and badly cut.

Mayor Doyle stopped the car and arrested the lad. A local justice yesterday morning ordered the boy's father to bring him before the court Saturday and administer an old-fashioned licking. The boy is to write letters of apology to the baseball men and street car management.

The book of Genesis is the teaching of God; it embodies all Christianity and the rest of the sacred volume follows its teachings."

Yesterday he placed his mouth over the muzzle of a shotgun and blew the top of his head off. He was well to do and used an automobile to deliver his mail.

COMMITS SUICIDE WHEN WIFE DIES

It transpires that the "nutting party" of boys who were attacked on the West Salem road by a man with a revolver, was in reality a party of young men spending lite Sabbath nursing several bottles of "picnics" on the hill adjoining the road where the fracas took place. It is claimed by citizens that a crowd of young fellows who style themselves the "George street gang" make a practice of sojourning on the hill just across the Burlington tracks, outside the city limits, and beyond the jurisdiction of the police. Here they are said to indulge in indiscretions, while not particularly vicious, are very obnoxious to people passing along the road.

It appears that the row which occurred Sunday resulted from an insult cast at a young woman in a carriage, and that the assault upon the young men was caused by their repeated remarks. The woman's escort left the rig and slapped several faces in the crowd.

ROBERT LORRAINE IN "MAN AND SUPER- MAN"

In "Man and Superman," Bernard Shaw's latest and conceded to be his best comedy, in which Robert Lorraine is appearing in a stellar capacity, the author has evolved a digest of laws existing between men and women, which in the opinion of many, partakes of novelty in the extreme. The author, it would seem, has developed a new analysis of the character of women. That Mr. Shaw is a student of human nature, there is no gainsay.

ROBERT LORRAINE
Playing in "Man and Superman" at the La Crosse theater tonight.

Scene from Act I, "Man and Superman," tonight.

In Mr. Shaw's heroine in "Man and Superman," he has brought forth a creature, no doubt in compatible with public opinion, yet in his analysis he has probably fathomed the innermost instinct of women when in her pursuit of a husband. Charles Dillingham will present Robert Lorraine in "Man and Superman" at the La Crosse theater tonight at which time the theatergoing public will be granted their first opportunity of seeing this greatly discussed comedy. The part impersonated by Mr. Lorraine is that of a young English gentleman, who does not desire to be married, but is the subject of pursuit by an estimable young woman of his acquaintance, who is determined to have him for her husband, and before the chase is complete she attaches the banner of victory upon the cutter.

walls. Mr. Shaw's hero is in no sense a woman hater but he has pronounced opinions upon the subject of women, and from his point of view, they are artistic in their design upon men. According to Mr. Shaw's hero's method of reasoning, woman has the power to cause a man to will his own destruction. When admonished that women take the tenderest care of men, he replies by saying, "Yes, as a soldier takes care of his rifle, or a musician of his violin."

NATURE SPARES

The Stricken Rose From Grief.

What a fortunate provision of nature it is, that deprives the rose of mental suffering; for how poignant would be its grief to discover, in the height of its blooming glory, that a canker fed at its heart, and that its beauty and fragrance were doomed forever. Nature always spares the suffering; she is a veritable store-house of pleasing rewards, for those who seek her aid. In the years gone by falling hair and grayness have cast a gloom over the lives of thousands of young women, but thanks to the investigations of scientists the true cause of hair destruction is now known to be a germ or parasite that burrows into the hair follicles. Newbro's Herpicide absolutely destroys this germ, thus permitting the hair to grow as nature intended. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

The new Shubert theater in Kansas City was opened last night with Eddie Foy in "The Earl and the Girl."

Miss Eleanor Robson will begin her New York season at the Liberty theater next week. She appears first in a new play by Israel Zangwill, "Miss Marjorie."

E. S. Willard began his American tour in Montreal last night, appearing in Michael Morton's "Colonel Newcome," the adaptation from Thackeray's masterpiece which Beerbohm Tree presented with considerable success in London.

A vivid delineation of the sufferings of the wretched laborers in a Sicilian sulphur mine is to be one of the chief scenic sensations of "The Bondsman," Hall Caine's autumnal melodrama at Drury Lane, London.

Virginia Harned will begin a three weeks' engagement in Sardou's "The Love Letter" at the Lyric theater in New York next Monday. She will be followed by Lena Ashwell, the English actress, in "The Shulamite."

Charles Frohman will present "Toddlers" in New York after the holidays. The piece, which was adapted from the French by Clyde Fitch, was originally produced at the Duke of York's theater, London.

Truly Shattuck has given up vaudeville for a part in Anna Held's new play, "A Parisian Model."

H. V. Esmond has named the four-act play he has written for Ethel Barrymore, "Kathleen."

Robert Hilliard will star during the season in "The Turn of the Tide."

UNCLE SAM'S LIQUOR SALE

(Tribune Special Service.)

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—Enough liquor to stock a dozen saloons was sold at auction in the United States appraiser's stores today. The annual sale of these intoxicants has long been a feature of the custom-house work, but the present sale was the biggest in the history of the service in New York. The sale embraced thousands of bottles of the choicest foreign wines and cordials, not to mention many hundreds of gallons of less expensive beverages. Most of the stuff came under the head of "unclaimed goods," and was sold by the government for the purpose of paying duty and storage charges.

GO TO THE BOARD OF TRADE MEETING TONIGHT

It is difficult to predict the success of the board of trade in its efforts to secure the erection here of an auditorium of sufficient capacity to meet the needs of a city of thirty thousand inhabitants. The task is big one, for the project involves the expenditure of a large sum of money. So great an undertaking by interests not unified to the extent of forming a solid working organization leaves room for doubt as to the avidity with which this splendid opportunity to get what they want and need will be seized.

The plan is brought to issue before the board of trade at this time because of the acute need of an auditorium to house the Northwestern German Saengerfest, which wants to come here provided it can be properly entertained. That the German societies will contribute substantial support to it is certain. But others must add their help and influence. Beside a full meeting of the board tonight we urge the presence of all who are interested in the building of an auditorium. We want to see representatives of the following organizations there to lend the encouragement of their presence to the effort:

The German societies.
The Norwegian societies.
Company M., 3d. regiment, W. N. G.
Company B., 3d. regiment, W. N. G.
Modern Woodmen.
Yoemen.
Knights of Pythias.
Catholic Knights.
Forresters.
Masons.
G. A. R.
Spanish War Veterans.
Redmen.
Merchants' Association.

We want to see these people there, and we want to see representatives of all other organizations there. There is not one of these societies that, as organizations, will not be directly and materially benefitted by the erection of an auditorium. The relative degree of benefit will depend upon the comparative amount of use each society makes of the building, and upon this should depend the relative contributions of the societies.

By all means go, both as representatives of organizations and as citizens. Do not wait to be appointed or specially invited. Let a sense of home loyalty compel you to appoint yourself a committee of one to be present and to boost, everlastingly boost.

BIRDS OF A FEATHER

"The Bangor Independent" intimates in its last issue that some republicans are dissatisfied with Harry Palmer for sheriff, and that they are going to join with the democrats to elect Chris Burns. It is as underhanded and sneaking a misrepresentation of facts as will be made during the pending county campaign. He (Palmer) will make as good a sheriff as we have had for the past six years. There is not a ghost of a reason why any republican should fail to vote for the republican candidate for sheriff. He cannot be defeated unless betrayed by unworthy influences in his own party."—Stras & Gelatt in the Morning Chronicle.

There never has appeared in the Stras-Gelatt morning organ of Car-gilldom a more appropriate utterance. Indeed, it could not have been expected that a newspaper of which a man like Jim Stras is the inspiring diety would oppose the political expeditions of a man like Harry Palmer. The Stras-Palmer alliance represents an harmonious association of personal characteristics to which business engendered hatred of John C. Burns has proved sufficient incentive to lend the active approval of the socially emaculate Mr. Gelatt.

"Palmer will make as good a sheriff as we have had in the past six years," will he, Mr. Gelatt? O, John Haugen, what a distinguished compliment has been paid you by the maladroitness of Mr. Palmer!

John C. Burns was one of the most conspicuous leaders in the fight that "busted" Mr. Cargill's light trust and rendered valueless the $40,000 worth of common stock he "acquired" at about the time he and others collusively "leased" the merchants' independent light plant to the light trust crowd in violation of the rights of a majority of the stockholders. That is not the only time in his life that John C. Burns has taken active interest in things that concern the public weal. No man has been more devoted than he to the thankless duties of active citizenship. He has been a constant factor for good in this community. He has never been known to "double cross" his associates, and his standing in this city is such that the vengeful Mr. Gelatt cannot hope to besmirch it. Ah, but he can be revenged! Here is his chance! He will elect the aspiring and adventurous Mr. Palmer over John C. Burns' brother. What humiliation to heap upon a self-respecting citizen. It will be "up sticks" with John C. Burns after this deal.

But it won't, and at the cost of lowering himself in the estimation of the better element in this community Mr. Gelatt has annexed another conspicuous journalistic failure. Harry Palmer got 1,030 votes in the republican primaries. His opponents together polled 2,700 votes. Palmer's votes were mostly the riff-raff of both parties, a few dyed in the wool republicans of the refined element giving him a purely perfunctory support. His success was due to the multiplicity of candidates against him splitting up the thoughtful vote. He could not have won serious consideration in a convention of his party where the law-and-order delegates had a chance to center on a candidate of their own sort. In the general election he will get his 1,030 votes. He will also get a few perfunctory party votes. But of the 2,700 republican votes cast against him in the primaries he will not get 1,000 at the outside. There are not, we believe, more than 2,030 men in La Crosse county who will be willing to assist in the election of the insincere and spectacular "Dog" Palmer.

THE MEDICINE SLOP ALMANAC

It is not surprising that La Crosse advertisers decline to pay out their good money to hire space in newspapers that are literally nothing but symptom blanks. Sunday's Chronicle contained forty-seven advertisements of the sort known to printers as "medicine crap." Not the advertisements of the reputable proprietary medicines; some of these were there, but most of the "ads" were those of medicine fakes of the sort that are both fraudulent and injurious.

And the local merchant is expected to pay for advertisements to be buried in this junk heap of patented schutch. Will he do it? Would you plant a rose in a bed of noxious weeds? Can any legitimate advertiser get value received in a publication to read which is enough to make a well man sick?

Not only that, but the price is a stumbling block. What do you pay the Cargill papers the inch? If you pay 15 cents, we say to you that your competitor is paying but 10 cents. If you pay 10 cents, we say to you that your competitor is paying but 7 cents. We say this on the strength of statements made to us by advertisers as to what they pay. Some pay more, and some pay less, and the price "certainly does seem wondrous cheap, and, for the money, quite a heap." This refers to local advertisers.

What do you think these medicine houses pay? They pay in medicine. It is shipped to a certain drug house, and that house runs the advertising with its own name attacked. But the medicine is not sold here. Oh dear, no! It is sold at a discount, and the money is divided between the newspaper and the drug house. Some of the advertising may net the paper 12 cents an inch, and more of it nets the paper 5 or 6 cents an inch. And the medicine factory is obliged to advertise to sell the medicine in the community in which it is "jobbed" by the local paper and drug company after already paying once to advertise it here. Why, if all the slop bought by this drug-newspaper combination and advertised in La Crosse were sold and consumed here the community would all be enroute to the grave yard.

And it is up to the La Crosse merchant to pay, say 10 to 15 cents per inch for advertising space in order to have his advertisement buried in a chaos of "medicine slop" at say 7 cents an inch. The only satisfaction the local advertiser can get out of it comes with the knowledge that not many people read it. If they do read it, they read the type lifted from the Evening Common Stock of the night before into the Morning Laughing Stock of the next day. No morning newspaper can print the news and go to press before midnight as the Morning Laughing Stock does, for the bulk of the important and new news comes to the morning paper between midnight and 2:30 a. m.

And how did Mr. Connor find out the La Crosse county had expressed a preference in the matter of a state chairman.

It is entertaining and reassuring to hear from Mr. Connor that he is going to provide La Crosse with a normal school, anyway.

We cheerfully invite Col. Charles K. Lush to defend himself in The Tribune. It would be highly entertaining to our readers, and we are of the opinion there would be wailing and gnashing of teeth in the outer darkness across the street. Foxy Grandpa didn't invite bother from Charley Lush when that talented and honorable journalist was on the ground armed with a newspaper.

Mr. Gelatt's reference to the "Chesterfieldian" Mr. Connor is not so unfitting. Mr. Connor certainly is chester enough.

Perhaps the committee did not rubber at the works with sufficient intetness.

PALMER NOT THE MAN FOR SHERIFF

"For some time the friends of good government and clean politics who were not altogether pleased with the result of the recent primary election hoped that William Duncan or some other representative republican—representative of the ability cleanliness and best which the party has to offer—would run as an independent candidate for sheriff of La Crosse county. But it seems that Mr. Duncan has decided not to make the run and we have the alternative of voting for Harry Palmer or Chris Burns.

As between the two candidates, judging from the sentiment of numerous republicans and democrats—and in fact, men of all parties—there is but one choice, that of Chris J. Burns. Like his distinguished prototype, Frank X. Boden, republican candidate for district attorney of Milwaukee county, Mr. Palmer is impossible. His nomination was a mistake. It could not have happened had the voters been cognizant of the candidate and his methods. When this record becomes known, as it certainly must be in the few weeks yet remaining before election, there can be little doubt that the voters, the right living, honest and conscientious yeomanry of La Crosse county, will rectify their mistake by electing Chris J. Burns who is not only far and away the better man for the place, but stands better as a man and a citizen in the community in which they both reside."—Bangor Independent.

M'FARLAND SPECIAL SELLS FARM FOR $9,000 DEPUTY FOR MOD- ERN SAMARITANS

A. C. McFarlan, clerk in the freight office of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway company, has resigned his position with the company to accept one as special deputy in Wisconsin for the Modern Samaritans fraternal order of Duluth, Minn. Mr. McFarlan will leave tonight for the Zenith City to be installed in his new position. He will have headquarters in La Crosse.

At a price of $90 per acre, one of the highest ever paid for farm land in La Crosse county, Ernest Rhodes has sold to William Hoier, one hundred acres of land in the town of Barre for a consideration of $8,000. The deal was completed Sept. 27 and the deed filed this morning.

"The newspaper size" of a store—the relative space of its advertisements, compared with those of its competitors—is more in the public mind than the actual size of its buildings or salesrooms.

JUST LIFE

Two Places

"This world has no place for a dreamer of dreams"

We are told in a popular song: Though sweetly poetic this sentiment seems

We have to declare it is wrong: This world has two places for dreamers of dreams,

Both of them close to dramatic, One on Fame's crest where the limelight gleams,

The other to starve in an attic.

The tendency of some people to turn to the Devil when they nurse a grievance against the Lord, is what fills the penitentiaries.

It is the height of folly to jump off a skyscraper.

Those "They Says"

There was a lesson for lovers of real Christianity in last night's production of "Our New Minister," a show, we dare say, that will not be enjoyed by sleek-haired hypocrites when it plays a return date here Friday night.

At least there is no mystery in why the editor of the Morning Symptom Blank has his knife out for Burns.

Most anybody will be welcome to the Welcome Arch if they'll haul it off.

The chief reason for calling the "gang" a nutting party seems to be the fact that the hops went to their heads.

Another suit for libel has been started against the Free Press, "and Pfister then shouted with joy."

If any one tells you (which no will) that the Special Privilege Organist has anything but a gnawing hunger for revenge in his political endorsements and attacks, don't you take any Common Stock in it.

The government seeks a corner on the weather. We will have weather with corners, and prongs and spikes in it before long.

A number of prominent alienists have found Thaw insane. That's probably better for Thaw than in jail.

Perhaps the "Ol' Man" will want the democrats of the Thirteenth to "stand shoulder to shoulder and stick with the party" at the next municipal election.

Five weeks till election—plenty of time to destroy a thousand friendships.

UNIQUE'S NEW PLAY APPRECIATED BY BIG AUDIENCE

The Fitzpatrick company in "The Welcome Guest" in connection with a good program of moving pictures opened the Unique as a vaudeville house last evening to a packed house at both performances. Quite noticeable were the large percentage of women who desire to witness a clean performance. Stephen Fitzpatrick as Abe Lincoln made a hit. His fine acting and close resemblance to Lincoln's picture as it was thrown upon the curtain at the close of the performance were something great. Edward Lahl as Uncle Zeb, the faithful old negro servant who saw no harm in stealing a chicken, caused both tears and laughter during the play. Will F. J. Lahl, as Ezra Gillman, the postmaster and villain of the play, handled his difficult part to perfection. Seeing him off the stage with that smile that never wears off only when acting his part one can hardly believe it is the same man.

Pretty, captivating Genevieve Cecil, as Annie Lockhart the devoted daughter, had the audience with her all the time. Her acting was easy, graceful and not overdrawn; in fact the whole troupe would do credit to a high priced company.

Lahl and Cecil in refined comedy, new parodies and mobile dancing, Will F. J. Lahl, bass solo singer are also good and up to date.

The management of the Unique is being congratulated upon securing this excellent combination of players for their opening week.

NOTABLE BIRTHDAYS.

Robert Burns Brown.

General Robert Burns Brown, the present commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic was born at New Concord, O., Oct. 2, 1844, and was educated in the public schools of his native town. He served in the army from the outbreak of the civil war until its close. After studying law for three years he abandoned the idea of becoming a lawyer and entered the profession of journalism. For many years he has been editor and manager of a newspaper in Zanesville, O. He is also trustee of the Ohio Soldiers' and Sailors' Home at Sandusky and has always been prominent in all affairs that concerned the war veterans and their organizations. At the Minneapolis encampment this summer he won out over several opponents and was chosen commander-in-chief of the G. A. R. to succeed "Corporal" James Tanner. His ancestry was Scotch-Irish, and the strength of the Scottish sentiment is evinced in the name given him at baptism, Robert Burns Brown.

S. A. D. PUTER WILL TELL OF ROBBERY OF THE WEST

Arch-Land Grafter is Prepared to Tell the World in Story Form How he Swindled Land Buyers

Stephen A. Douglas Puter, king of Oregon land fraud operators, who numbers several La Crosse capitalists among his victims, is to tell in book form the story of his part in the looting of the public domain covering a quarter of a century upon the Pacific coast. The book will be written in his cell in the Multnomah county jail. Yesterday Puter sent for a newspaper man who has had much to do with reporting the land fraud trials, and to whom he imparted the secret of his ambition. Arrangements were entered into whereby the newspaper man is to collaborate with Puter in giving to the world a full and complete history of land fraud operations on the Pacific coast from the date of their earliest inception down to the present time, which Puter characterizes as the beginning of the end of illegal transactions in this connection.

Discussing the situation, he said: "There are three well-defined periods of fraudulent land operations in this western country, extending through a course of many years, and I have been an active participant in them all. They have arisen just as any other spasmodic effort has come to the surface, and then receded, carrying men high in official position with them down to degradation and dishonor, leaving them high and dry on the treacherous shores of public opinion."

"This is the last grand stand of the land of thieves, and now I am prepared to tell the story to the world in all its glaring details, because I feel that it is a topic that possesses much human interest, without counting the moral sentiment involved in the issue."

The work will be replete with illustrations covering many of the dramatic episodes incident to the various

CAREFUL DOCTOR
Prescribed Change of Food Instead of Drugs

It takes considerable courage for a doctor to deliberately prescribe only food for a despairing patient, instead of resorting to the usual list of medicines.

There are some truly scientific physicians among the present generation who recognize and treat conditions as they are and should be treated regardless of the value to their pockets. Here's an instance:

"Four years ago I was taken with severe gastritis and nothing would stay on my stomach, so that I was on the verge of starvation."

"I heard of a doctor who had a summer cottage near me—a specialist from N. Y.—and as a last hope, sent for him."

"After he examined me carefully he advised me to try a small quantity of Grape-Nuts at first, then as my stomach became stronger to eat more."

"I kept at it and gradually got so I could eat and digest three teaspoonsful. Then I began to have color in my face, memory became clear, where before everything seemed a blank. My limbs got stronger and I could walk. So I steadily recovered."

"Now after a year on Grape-Nuts I weigh 153 lbs. My people were surprised at the way I grew fleshy and strong on this food." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

"There's a reason."

DR. EATON, CANDIDATE FOR GOVERNOR SPEAKS IN CITY

The Rev. E. K. Eaton, a former resident of La Crosse, candidate for governor on the prohibition ticket, State Chairman Cox and Professor A. M. Thatcher, Boston, working in the interests of the party, delivered addresses at Linker hall last night in the first rally held in La Crosse. The speakers spoke at West Salem yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Cox opened the meeting with a discussion of the liquor traffic. He cited examples of what has been done in other states, chiefly Illinois and made the assertion that the same reform movement might be attempted with success in Wisconsin. Prohibitionists were urged to vote the straight party ticket.

The Rev. Eaton, in opening his address, referred to his residence in La Crosse eighteen years ago. He was a pastor of one of the North side churches. He remembered the call for the first prohibition party meeting in La Crosse in 1888 when he called several together in the old court house. From this small beginning the party has grown to its present size in La Crosse. The speakers asked the prohibitionists to vote for the party, casting his ballot for each candidate.

The plans of the party call for a thorough canvass of the state, the Rev. Eaton taking a large share of the burden upon his own shoulders. He expects to be busy delivering addresses until election time.

LA CROSSE MACHINISTS ORGANIZING

Machinists throughout the state of Wisconsin including those in La Crosse are to be thoroughly organized and work in that direction will be started immediately by Frank W. Wilson, business agent of the union in Milwaukee, who is expected here shortly. Organization will be perfected in every city where there are machinists enough to form a strong local.

Mr. Wilson plans to put a business agent to work in Wisconsin and he will cover the entire state except the territory in Milwaukee. The organization there is about as strong as it can be made, but it is the plan of Mr. Wilson to strengthen the lodges in all sections of the state and make them as powerful as possible.

It was reported that the boiler-makers and machinists who struck recently on the Wabash road have received an increase of 3 cents an hour.

THE SAME OLD BRYAN

(From the Wausau Daily Herald.)

The republican papers of the country are busy these days trying to kill the Bryan boom by laborious screeds furnished by the trust press bureau, calculated to show that he is "the same old Bryan."

Such articles will help rather than hurt Bryan. It is because he is "the same old Bryan" that the people love and have confidence in him. It is because he is "the same old Bryan," with heart and purpose for the people and against the oppressive trusts, that the people want him for president.

It is because Roosevelt has demonstrated that the great trusts thrive by defying the law that the people love this "same old Bryan," who saw and pointed out the truth ten years ago. It is because the people have come to understand that but little, if any, relief may be expected from the republican party because it is bound hand and foot by campaign contributions from the trusts, and handicapped by men elected by the trusts to serve the trusts, that they want this "same old Bryan," who is not afraid to denounce the betrayers of the people, whether they are in the republican party or the democratic party.

Every time a trust hiring press yawns "the same old Bryan" the people say "amen" and bless him for being "the same old Bryan" and pray God to speed the day when he will be president.

UNITED IRISH LEAGUE MEETS

(Tribune Special Service.)
PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Oct. 2.—One of the most notable gatherings of men seen in Philadelphia in a long time—men whose life aim and work has been to better the condition of Ireland and to secure for that country self-government—sembled here today for the national convention of the United Irish League of America. Hundreds of delegates and interested spectators filled the Academy of Music when the convention was formally called to order by the national president, John Finerty of Chicago. T. P. O'Connor and Edward Blake, representatives of the Irish party in the British parliament occupied places of honor on the stage and were given an enthusiastic ovation by the assemblage. After the usual preliminaries incident to the opening of the gathering had been disposed of the convention went into executive session.

MILLIONAIRES IN SENATE RACE

(Tribune Special Service.)

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Oct. 2.—After months of preliminary skirmishing the political campaign in Rhode Island and whose nominal object is the election of a United States senator to succeed George P. Wetmore, has been fairly opened. Senator Wetmore is busy making speeches in cities and towns throughout the state. Col. Robert H. I. Goddard, nominated at a primary convention, the first in the history of Rhode Island, as an independent candidate for the senate, has returned from Europe, and Col. Pomroy Colt, president of United States Rubber company, popularly known as the rubber trust, is on the scene to direct his campaign.

The contest in Rhode Island this year nominally involves a senatorship only, with a three-cornered fight in progress between Mr. Wetmore, who holds the seat, Col. Goddard, the candidate of the democrats, and their republican allies, and Col. Colt, the alleged candidate of the republican organization of which Senator Nelson W. Aldrich is the dominating force. Beyond and beneath the aspirations and ambitions of these rival candidates, the campaign involves, possibly, the future political status, economic policy and public morals of the state.

The formal letter of acceptance of Col. Goddard supplies the keynote of the campaign. It is generally regarded as a severe indictment of the republican party and its present management. Mr. Wetmore depends for success upon the assumption that possession is nine points of the law. Col. Goddard relies upon the statement in his letter of acceptance that the people want to down the corrupt bosses, strangle the autocracy and effect tariff reform.

Col. Colt is banking on his very keen longing to go to the senate, his wide business connections throughout the state, his personal popularity, and his general idea that if the Goddard theory that the people are struggling to be free of bosses and the protective tariff is unsound he will be able to win over the machine.

HAS NEVER CHANGED ITS RATES

(Tribune Special Service.)

CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 2.—The United States Railway Mail Service Mutual Benefit association, the membership of which is confined to railway postal clerks, began its thirty-second annual convention today in Chicago. The reports presented to President C. E. Lancaster of Kansas City, Secretary-treasurer W. S. Corning of this city and other officers show the affairs of the association to be in a satisfactory condition. Among mutual benefit organizations the association is unique in that, during its existence of over thirty years it has never changed its rates nor has it ever failed to meet its obligations.

Promise is made that the pageant this year will far eclipse all of its predecessors. The parade will be followed as usual, by the annual veiled prophet ball, the great society event of the year.

"QUARTER-SAW" DAMAGES IN O'SHA CASE TO $2,625

Jury Gives Verdict Much Smaller Than Asked to Contractors Against City of La Crosse

Cutting down the amount of damages claimed by the plaintiff to $2,625 from $8,791.04, the jury in the case of Shay & O'Shea against the city of La Crosse on a North side sewer contract in 1904, returned a verdict late yesterday afternoon. At a casual glance, the verdict is neither a victory for the defendant or the plaintiff, the claims of each being upheld in some particulars. The reduction of damages claimed by the plaintiff to a sum of $2,625, the maximum which can be collected is a victory for the city.

The first question, whether the sewer cracked from failure of the contractor to observe the specifications, is answered in favor of the plaintiff. The jury believes the sewer cracked from unknown causes.

In answer to how much the relaying of the pipe worth, the jury placed the value at $3,675. The plaintiff claimed $8,791.04.

The contractors were blamed for seven days' delay, the jury allowing the city $1,050 on this count. In answer to whether the city waived its right to penalties, the jury answered no. Deducting $1,050 from $3,675, the amount allowed for relaying the pipe, the maximum damages to be collected by the contractors is $2,625.

PHENOMENA OF HABIT.

The Importance of Correct Training For Young Children.

The most important years, the years that give the trend for life, are the early ones, when the little dimpled hands are outstretched, when the baby soul is reaching forth and receiving ideas and impressions, when manners are formed and habits have their beginnings. To leave the babies to irresponsible hired hands and lavish care and expense on half grown children is the blunder of those who are ignorant or inexperienced as to vital issues.

President King of Oberlin college, in his admirable treatise on "Rational Living," has this to say to young people, and I commend it to mothers:

"Nowhere are the physical and physical so completely interwoven as in the phenomena of habit. The mind's initiative constantly comes in, but it is as constantly seconded by the nervous system. The time limit in habits is one of the strong evidences of the close connection of body and mind. It is a startling fact to face that a man's personal habits are largely fixed before he is twenty, the chief lines of his future growth and acquaintance before he is twenty-five and his professional habits before he is thirty. We are becoming bundles of habits. With every young person one must, therefore, continually urge: Are you willing to retain just the personal habits you have now? You cannot too quickly change them if you wish to make thorough work. From your early morning toilet, through the care of your clothing and the order of your room, table manners, breathing, tone of voice, manner of talking, pronunciation, gesture, motion, address, study, to your very way of sleeping at night—all your habits are setting like plaster of paris."—Margaret E. Sangster in Woman's Home Companion.

PERT PARAGRAPHS.

A barefaced lie isn't nearly so dangerous as a two faced lie.

The man who wins is his own excuse for occupying the earth.

It always looks so foolish to see another fellow suffering with the toothache.

We don't notice other people's faults so much when they are paying close attention to our virtues.

The world is growing better, but not at such a rapid rate that it is likely to yearn to support you and your family just out of the goodness of its heart.

A new hair ribbon is as dear to a little girl's heart as his big automobile is to her dad.

If the man in the moon isn't a high liver, he looks it.

Learning to smoke seems to make a small boy able to swear harder.

Most women insist on having their own way and then get mad at some man because he did not restrain them.

Those College Boys.
There's nothing so happy, so gay and so free
As boys who are trying to make a degree.
They shout till their throats are as rough
As a file
And ogle and stare at the ladies meanwhile.
On work they are short as a mother made pie.
For football and gym work they constantly sigh;
They don't give a rap for the way the world goes;
They think that it lies at the tips of their toes.
A chemical test of our varsity boys
Most likely would show big percentage of noise.
Together with nerve to put up a good front,
And come out all right when they're doing their stunt.
They swagger and boast with an infinite gall
And think that the world will respond to their call;
They spend all the dollars their daddies can send
And learn how it is for themselves at the end.

The Inference.
"He wants to be judge in a baby show."
"Tired of life, eh?"

Business on Hand.
Many people are going about with a cheerful smile and a light head as though wholly unaware of the fact that the serious business of electing a congressman is before them this fall.
They go to watering places, also to butter-milking places and several other places that might be mentioned, giving no thought to the serious business of self government to which they must soon attend.
Apparently, as far as they are concerned, any old dub will do for a congressman, but the roar they put up when congress meets and does not pass a bill to pension their mothers-in-law is calculated to make people a block away think that some one is trying the horn of his new auto on the natives. Eternal vigilance may be the price of liberty, but a careful search of their clothes would not disclose the price.

RETIREMENT OF COL WALLACE

(Special Tribune Service.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 2.—After forty years' service in the army, Col. William N. Wallace of the 15th Cavalry was placed on the retired list today on his own application. Born in Wisconsin, Col. Wallace began his military career as first lieutenant of the 13th New York Artillery in March, 1864, and entered the regular army in 1866, as second lieutenant of the 8th Infantry. He served in the infantry until December, 1870, when he was transferred to the cavalry arm of the service.

In the days when the water cure was creating such a furore both in the Philippines and the United States, Col. Wallace devised a means for restricting murderous Mohammedans in Jolo which was far more effective than the cruel practices of many other officers. He understood the religious prejudices of the Mohammedan Moros so well that by endangering the eternal happiness of Moro outlaws he frightened them into submission. In 1902, when Mohammedan religious fanatics were making a practice of feigning insanity and running through the streets murdering Christians. Col. Wallace took the body of one of the fanatics who had been killed by the soldiers and had it placed in a grave near the market place and after a large crowd had gathered the colonel ordered a hog killed and had the body of the unclean beast hung over the grave, where the blood trickled down upon the dead Mohammedan. This defilement of a son of the prophet in the minds of the Mohammedans, condemned the man's soul to the eternal damnation and created a panic among the followers of Mohamet, who thereafter desisted from promiscious killing.

SARTORIAL NEWS.

Turbans the Modish Headgear—Brown and Gray a Smart Combination.

Turbans are to be the fashionable fall and winter hats for general service. They are smartly trimmed at the back with wide, outstanding bows.

Many of the new coats show position backs. This is a style that looms up on the modish horizon every few years, but it is not taken up with much enthusiasm.

If you want to have a smart costume this winter let it be in tones of brown and gray. The combination is not alluring or wildly becoming, but it is very fashionable.

Lace will be used quite as much on gowns this winter as it has for the past few seasons. There is a leaning in favor of Spanish laces, due to the popularity of the new queen of Spain.

Pink is a popular shade just now, and there is one shade of very pale pink that is charming on the red haired blond, and she may also wear a deep wine red, dark green, navy blue, lemon color and pale green. Piping will appear on many of the winter suits. This trimming is particularly attractive on mixed chevrons and tweed costumes.

Bolero jackets and jaunty little coats of black lace are to rival the same effects in white lace that have been so smart for several seasons. Then there are all kinds of fancy yokes, fichus and chemisettes carried out in black Spanish lace.

All the fall tailor makes have a touch of dressiness about the bodice or coat in the form of inset appliques or fancy braids.

Navy blue broadcloth makes the attractive gown in the cut. The plain skirt is stitched in several rows at the footline. The bolero has a design of black braid in geometrical pattern. About the U shaped neck is a dainty finish of plaited white mull. The flaring cuffs on the short sleeves show this plaited edge. JUDIC CHOLLET.

WHAT IS WORN.

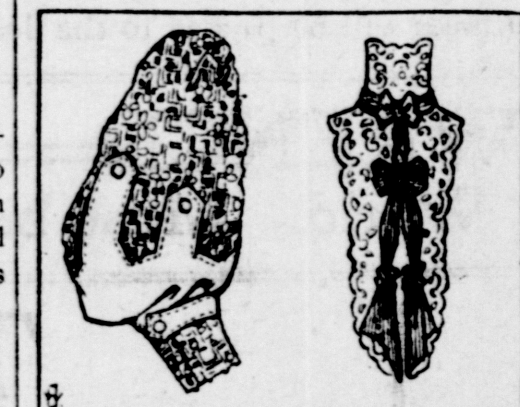

Embroidered Button Pad-Hats For School Wear—New Sash Fasteners.

Embroidered buttons are so smart and attractive that many women are embroidering their own little circles of silk, which are afterward used to cover button molds.

Light felt hats are to be modish for early fall wear for school children.

The pretty fashion of wearing fringed sashes, copied from French children, is being taken up by mothers who are just a little tired of the ubiquitous belt. These sashes are made of wide ribbon—the soft, droopy kind—finished with a fringe of heavy silk knotted on in simple or intricate fashion, according to whim. They are worn long enough for the fringe to come to the very edge of the hem or, as in Paris, just below it.

In spite of a strongly increased demand for a larger hat there is a tendency toward a rather greater volume of the turban. It is a somewhat long shape and like most of the modish hats is built up at the back with a bandeau. The trimming is also massed at the back and it not infrequently consists of several short but fluffy ostrich plumes. Occasionally a large bird with a paradise tail is perched on the back of one of these smart turbans and then one knows that the creation is straight from Paris.

The cut shows a fall sleeve model. The puff and tight fitting cuff are made of fillet net, while the quaintly shaped elbow effect with tabbed ends is of cloth. Most attractive, too, is the lace neckpiece illustrated with its knotted tie of soft silk. JUDIC CHOLLET.

INSURANCE COMMISSIONERS MEET

(Special Tribune Service.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 2.—What is regarded as the most important meeting in the history of the National Association of Insurance Commissioners began today at the Arlington Hotel, to continue until Friday. It is the thirty-seventh annual meeting of the association and the attendance includes the insurance commissioners of nearly every state in the union.

The importance of the meeting is indicated by the fact that the commissioners have decided to eliminate the usual banquet and attendant festivities from the program and devote the time wholly to business.

The most important work of the meeting is to be the consideration of a proposed uniform insurance law. The initial step in securing the enactment of such a measure was taken at a conference held in Chicago last February at the instance of President Roosevelt. A special committee of this conference met in Minneapolis last month in connection with the assembling of the American Bar Association, and the bill drafted by the committee is supposed to contain the best thought of the lawyers and insurance men of the United States. The measure will be acted upon by the present convention and later introduced in congress. Little has yet been made public in regard to the measure but it is in the form of a general law for the District of Columbia and the territories, and is intended to form a model of legislation for enactment by the several states.

LECTURE AND RECEPTION

Dr. Munz, editor of "Hans and Herd," from Cincinnati, O., will give a lecture on the "Working Plan of the Epworth League" at 8 o'clock. All are cordially invited to attend.

After the lecture a grand reception will be given by the local Epworth league in the church parlors.

Your income—where it is spent, how much of it is paid out in penalties for "not knowing," what is brings you, how much of it remains to you—if these things are interesting, then the interest to you.

IS LAID TO REST

Funeral services for the late Gregory Boschert, father of former Mayor Joseph Boschert, were held this morning from the Holy Trinity church at 9 o'clock. The Rev. Untrant officiated at the service. Interment was made in the Catholic cemetery.

TWO CANDIDATES FILE EXPENSES

Frank H. Aiken, successful candidate for register of deeds at the primary election, and Robert ("Punch") Robertson, candidate for clerk of the court, have filed the statements of their election expenses in accordance with the primary law.

Mr. Aiken swears that it cost him $87.70 to secure the nomination for office while Mr. Robertson names $225 as the cost to him.

William Weimar, successful candidate for county treasurer against whom there was no opposition, gives his oath that it cost him only $3.50.

Other candidates are expected to file their expense accounts shortly.

COMPLETE SERVICE IN EAU CLAIRE COUNTY

Congressman Esch received notice today that county service has been ordered for Eau Claire county. Inspector W. F. Esch will begin work here as soon as he finishes Pepin county, where he is engaged now. The new work will be started in two or three weeks.

Clark county, an unsettled district, remains without complete service. A good delivery now exists, but when roads under consideration are completed, the service will be completed.
